Just as it says in your catalog and online at the school site.... My policies for school closings (which apparently, happen a lot at WestConn, so be prepared!) are as follows:

- If school is DELAYED until midway through your course (e.g., campus opens at 9:30 and your class starts at 9:00), we will still have class for the remaining time. Assignments/Exams due that class period will be due that day in class.
- If school is CANCELED, assignments due that class period will be due next time we meet.
- In the case of either delay or cancellation, I will send an update email to the address you provided in class. It is your responsibility to check this to ensure you return to class prepared.
